Ghent Citizens Greet Liberators

GHENT, Nov. 12.—Citizens of Ghent, without distinction as to nationality, have greeted the allied troops as liberators. They relate the same stories of martyrdom that are current in every city delivered from the enemy. They were astounded at the quickness of the relief brought to them and are unable to believe that they are really freed from the hateful Teutonic yoke.

Deputy Ansiaux, acting burgomaster, who was thrice arrested by the Germans, told the correspondent today that the food situation here is not desperate, but is serious enough. There is enough wheat, bacon and food for three weeks, but there is no rice, condensed milk or soap. The city's greatest need is for brown paper with which to temporarily replace the thousands of windows smashed during the recent fighting in the smaller houses around the city. Ghent suffered no other serious damage.

For months past the morale of the German soldiers has been a source of great anxiety to their officers. Many mutinies attempts were pitifully suppressed and many soldiers were shot.

Three weeks ago 300 soldiers mutinied and paraded through the streets singing "The Marseillaise." They fired on Commandant Bluecher, bitterly opposed capitulating and openly discussed the inefficiency of Emperor William, the crown prince and Field Marshal von Hindenburg.

LONDON RECEIVES REPORT OF BOCHER HEIR BEING SHOT

extremely indefinite state of public opinion in Holland by the Amsterdam correspondent of the Mail. He says that German revolutionary soldiers along the Dutch frontier say that they were strictly ordered to prevent the former emperor and his family to escape into Holland.

Late Saturday night and shortly after 6 o'clock on Sunday morning, he says, the sound of cannon could be heard from German territory. It was reported that a fight had taken place between revolutionists and royalist troops and that both sides had used artillery.

OFFICERS WITH FORMER KAISER TO BE HELD

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 12.—According to Eysden advices the German officers with former Emperor William will be interned at Arnhem. The emperor will not be asked to give his parole, but it will be silently assumed that he is under a moral obligation. Some measure of freedom will be permitted him.

A few aged generals accompanied William Hohenzollern on his flight to Holland. When they reached the frontier they were stopped by Dutch frontier guards, who sent for Gen. Oomen, chief of the internment service, and some local authorities. After being introduced to the former emperor, Gen. Oomen entered the automobile, which had crossed the frontier, and drove off. The bystanders heard the former German war lord.

One of the generals in the party was in tears when the group drove away.

BELGIANS HISS WHEN DEPOSED RULER LEAVES

MAASTRICHT, Holland, Nov. 12.—(By the Associated Press.)—Amid exclamations from 2,000 Belgian refugees, the former German emperor's special train left here Monday northward bound. A tremendous crowd of sightseers had gathered, but the platform was strongly cordoned and William Hohenzollern did not show himself.

His destination is said to be Amsterdam, about 20 miles from Utrecht, where Count Beustinek has a country seat. But it is not possible to say where he will finally remain, for in order to avoid the curious he may have to keep to the train for a couple of days.

GENERAL STRIKE ON

BERNE, Nov. 12.—(Havas.)—A general strike has begun throughout Switzerland.

VICTORS AND VANQUISHED CHEER LOUDLY AS WAR ENDS

PARIS, Nov. 12.—When dawn came Monday morning there was no hint of the cessation of hostilities. East of the Meuse, regardless of the situation, the American Second army attacked in force at 8 o'clock. The onslaught was preceded by a tremendous barrage, which was returned in kind by the enemy. For three hours the Americans swept forward, hurling themselves against the wire entanglements.

The German snuffire was devastating. Then, at exactly one minute of 11, like a final thunder crash at the clearing of a storm, the guns on both sides abruptly ceased. The silence was more startling than the deafening roar of the barrage. For a brief minute intermittent rifle fire followed, then came a pause, punctuated by ripping cheers from the trenches on both sides of the line.

What followed on one sector was perhaps one of the most singular events of the war. Against the sky-line figures were suddenly silhouetted. They appeared cautiously at first, but soon growing bolder all along the line, they stood upright. These were Germans.

The Americans were so cautious. As the barrage died, ending in a final husky rumble in the distance from the big guns, runners went springing along the firing line. Instantly comprehending the whole line of doughboys leaped from trenches, fox holes and shell craters, splitting the unaccustomed silence with a shrill piercing yell.

Strange to relate the defeated enemy joined vociferously in the cheering. The world war was finished.

At one minute before 11 it would have meant death to show one's self above shelter. Not more than a minute after the hour the rolling plains was alive with cheering, shouting men, friend and enemy alike. Not many minutes later German and Americans were coming along the narrow stretch of ground, so fiercely fought over, some shyly and awkwardly, like embarrassed school boys.

First advances were followed by offers from the Americans of cigarettes, chocolate and chewing gum. The Germans in some places reciprocated with offers of hot coffee, bread and sausage.

The order forbidding fraternizing was strict, but the novelty of the situation at times overcame prudence and doughboys surreptitiously visited nearby enemy dugouts. Along the barbed wire at a road crossing, some doughboys and Germans began a brisk barter for souvenirs. The Germans were bewildered by the number of Americans speaking German.

"Sure, my old man was born in Germany," laughingly remarked one stalwart private.

"That's nothing," said another, "my mother and father were both born here."
